- Updated mapping shows that the fires cover 2,059 acres, according to Russell Hubright with the South Carolina Forestry Commission.
- The cause of the fires has not been determined.
- Three Carolina Forest neighborhoods seem to be the target of wildfires that continue to burn in the Myrtle Beach area.
- The east side of Carolina Forest Boulevard, which includes the neighborhoods of Avalon, Waterbridge and Walkers Woods, is where much of the fire is currently concentrated.

- As of this time, no structures have succumbed to the wildfire, and no injuries are reported.
