Wildfire Activity

California – Park Fire

- A massive wildfire that is burning homes and neighborhoods just outside Chico, California, continues to explode in size Friday as firefighters work to tame the flames and police investigate a suspected arsonist accused of starting the blaze in a bizarre event.
- The Park Fire began in Bidwell Park just before 3 p.m. local time on Wednesday. It quickly reached nearly 6,500 acres by Wednesday night, as local officials scrambled to get threatened residents to safety, according to CAL Fire in Butte County. The fire has since grown to nearly 165,000 acres and remains only 3% contained.
- Fire officials said "numerous" homes have been destroyed, but it's too early to get an accurate count. They have treated two firefighters for minor injuries so far.
- Over 4,000 residents have been evacuated, including several hundred within the city of Chico, according to Butte County Sheriff Kory Honea.
