Central Pacific – Hurricane Gilma

- Hurricane Gilma is tracking west toward the state but is about to encounter hostile conditions and cooler waters, according to the FOX Forecast Center.
- Gilma is forecast to weaken into a tropical depression as it moves near the islands on Friday into Saturday.
- FOX Weather Meteorologist Britta Merwin said. "(Gilma) could actually pass just north of the Big Island. It's still producing rain and gusty winds. By the time Gilma gets there, it's not going to be as strong as Hone was ... but it's the hit-after-hit."
