WSP USA INSPECTION SERVICES DISASTER AWARENESS REPORT

Declaration Request

Michigan:

- Governor Gretchen Whitmer today requested that President Joe Biden declare a major disaster for Otsego County following an EF-3 tornado last month.
- The request comes at the conclusion of an in-depth assessment of damage to the area.
- “We are doing everything in our power to secure all available assistance for the people of Gaylord as quickly as possible,” said Governor Whitmer. “A presidential declaration would open up additional federal resources necessary to help the Gaylord community recover.
- Governor Whitmer has requested supplementary federal aid in the form of Individual Assistance to help eligible residents.
- At the governor’s request, the Michigan State Police’s Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) conducted a joint Preliminary Damage Assessment with federal and local officials to review and assess the scope of the damage to homes and businesses in the Gaylord area.
- The teams conducted their assessments on May 25. State officials reviewed the results and determined the extent of damage and the challenges residents and business owners would face in recovery efforts reached the level necessary to apply for federal aid.

Severe Weather Outlook

- The final round of severe storms this week will be possible tonight favoring the Northwestern panhandles and Union County, NM.
- The main threats Thursday night will be damaging winds up to 80 mph and hail up to 1.5 inches in diameter.
- Current model guidance and general thoughts are that either two small clusters of storms or one very large MCS will develop off the mountains of New Mexico and continue to grow upscale as they move into the Texas Panhandle.
- As these storms converge together, dynamics aloft would suggest that wind is going to be the primary hazard as these storms roll through the Panhandle.
