WSP USA INSPECTION SERVICES DISASTER AWARENESS REPORT

February 7, 2025

Snow Northeast

- The FOX Forecast Center expects heavy snowfall will occur on Saturday across the Upper Midwest and Great Lakes.
- Temperatures are expected to be in the teens as the heavy snow falls.
- New winter weather alerts have already been posted for cities that stretch from the eastern Rockies and Dakotas to New York City and even Boston.
- The combination of the cold air and moisture could mean some locales such as Minneapolis, Minnesota; Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Detroit, Michigan, could experience their biggest snowstorm of the winter so far.
- The FOX Forecast Center said that much like the first storm, Pennsylvania appears to be in the bull's-eye once again for highly impactful ice.
- A high probability of more than 6 inches for areas generally north and northeast of New York City.
