Declaration Activity

DR 4590 Louisiana

- Gov. John Bel Edwards' request for a Major Disaster Declaration due to damage in Louisiana from February's winter weather event has been approved by President Joseph R. Biden.
- A system of heavy rains, wintry precipitation, and freezing temperatures began moving across Louisiana on February 11, 2021, and a second, similar system, followed on February 17, 2021.
- The impacts of the wintry precipitation and low temperatures, some of the lowest ever recorded in the region, posed a serious threat to the lives and property of the people of Louisiana.
- There were major power outages and outages to water systems, impacting roughly one-quarter of the Louisiana population.
- The President's action makes federal funding available to affected individuals in Avoyelles, Bienville, Bossier, Caddo, Calcasieu, Catahoula, Claiborne, Concordia, DeSoto, East Baton Rouge, Franklin, Grant, LaSalle, Madison, Natchitoches, Ouachita, Rapides, Red River, Richland, Sabine, Webster, West Carroll and Winn parishes.

Flood Activity

Hawaii

- Gov. David Ige signed an emergency proclamation Tuesday to free up state funds to assist those impacted by the heavy rains and flooding that has reached all islands, according to a post on Twitter.
- The severe weather is expected to continue through Friday, but residents are already reporting widespread damage.
- Nearly two feet of rain has fallen in total so far this week in Wahiawa on the island of Oahu.
- In Haiku, an area on the island of Maui, 13.2 inches of rain fell between 7 a.m. and 3 p.m. on Monday, according to the National Weather Service, sparking the threat of flash flooding.
- At least half a dozen homes on the island of Maui were reported to have been heavily damaged or destroyed. And two bridges in Wong's Village, Oahu crumbled as a cement truck drove over it, according to CNN affiliate KGMB.
- The Maui Fire Department reported it received more than a dozen calls for help from residents who were trapped in their homes because of rising floodwaters, according to an update from the County of Maui.
