- Tropical storm-force winds currently extend out 175 miles.
- On the forecast track, the center of Philippe is expected to move north of the Leeward Islands on Tuesday.
- Life-threatening rip currents will affect portions of the Atlantic coasts of the northern Leeward Islands, the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico through midweek.

Severe Weather & Flood Activity

Massachusetts (Sept. 11-13)

- Starting September 11, 2023, heavy rainfall of nearly 10 inches in six hours flooded parts of Massachusetts.
- The rainfall was a “200-year event,” said Matthew Belk, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service in Boston. Two communities declared a state of emergency and officials ordered evacuations out of concern for a dam listed in poor condition.
- On September 12, 2023, Governor Maura T. Healey declared a state of emergency in Massachusetts due to the catastrophic flash flooding and property damage caused by Monday night’s powerful rainstorm in Worcester County, Bristol County and other communities.
- In Leominster, the heavy rains the storms brought caused flooding that ripped through roads and buildings, creating sink holes and shuttering businesses.
- North Attleboro saw flood damage in at least 200 homes.
